EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE AND INTERESTS:

I teach undergraduate and postgraduate students, and I am a university examiner for the University of Birmingham. I was Postgraduate Clinical Tutor from 1989 until 1995, co-ordinating postgraduate education in The City Hospital, Dudley Road, Birmingham.

I organised and ran the only national course for nurses on bronchoscopy techniques, including decontamination and disinfection. I held these courses regularly at the City Hospital, Birmingham from 1991. I organised training modules for the specialist registrars in respiratory medicine from across the region. I was a member of the regional training committee for respiratory medicine since its formation in 1996.

I teach medical and microbiology undergraduates at the University of Warwick: from 2005 I have delivered lectures in the medical microbiology & respiratory infection modules. I also lecture to medical students at the University of Warwick.

I was sponsored by the postgraduate dean's department to attend as a part-time student at the MSc course on medical education at Cardiff University Postgraduate Medical Department (started in 1997), I designed and developed a CD ROM as part of the course work. I finished this course and completed my dissertation for the degree of MSc in Medical Education, which was been passed by the examination board.

1999-2003 Member of the Royal College of Physicians Specialty Question Group for part 1 and part 2 MRCP.

2004 Elected MRCP (UK) PACES Examiner.

2009 Host for PACES exam at Heartlands Hospital, June 2009

I was appointed external examiner by the University of London in 2006 and examined on the Respiratory Medicine MSc course at the Royal Brompton Hospital 23rd & 24th June 2006, 21st and 22nd June 2007 and 20th June 2008, and June 2009.

MANAGERIAL RESPONSIBILITIES

As clinical director of respiratory medicine at the Heart of England NHS Foundation Trust from January 2005 to October 2010, I was responsible for an annual budget of around £15.7m. This covers 4 sites: Heartlands Hospital, Solihull Hospital, Good Hope Hospital and Birmingham Chest Clinic. Management of the directorate is in conjunction with a matron and directorate manager. I held weekly meetings with both of these individuals. Also I had monthly meetings with the Trust's finance and pharmacy departments.

I chaired a monthly respiratory directorate meeting, which is multi-disciplinary. I established a clinical governance sub-committee, which meets bi-monthly to discuss clinical audit, general risk management, clinical incidents and complaints. I carried out annual appraisals on my consultant colleagues. I was responsible for major operational and strategic decisions about respiratory services for the Trust.

SOCIETIES:

Member of the British Thoracic Society
European Cystic Fibrosis Society
West Midlands Physicians Association
Midland Thoracic Society.

REVIEW WORK FOR SCIENTIFIC JOURNALS, ETC:

Appointed Editor and also onto the Editorial Board of the Journal of Antimicrobial Chemotherapy in January 2005 and continued until December 2011.

I have been a reviewer for the following journals:

- Journal of Antimicrobial Chemotherapy
- Thorax
- European Respiratory Journal
- Chest

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT:

I regularly attend respiratory society meetings (BTS, ERS, and ATS) to stay up to date with recent developments. In addition I have also attended a variety of meetings to further my personal development. I have confirmation of satisfactory CPD achievements in the last 5 year cycle from the Royal College of Physicians.

QUALITY

The respiratory department at Heart of England had a British Thoracic Society Peer Review in March 2004. We received detailed positive feedback about our good/excellent clinical services. Several areas were highlighted for improvement (e.g. respiratory services at Solihull Hospital), which I have subsequently helped as clinical director to improve.

We had a Cystic Fibrosis Trust Peer Review carried out at our centre (we volunteered to have the review) which gave us a report praising the high quality of most of our services. As Director of the CF Service in Heartlands I have personally supervised improvements in some areas as recommended.

Our Cystic Fibrosis Centre has had visits to see our facilities and mode of working from teams from many other CF units in the UK including Manchester, Kings College Hospital London, London Chest Hospital, Nottingham, Sheffield, Cardiff, Edinburgh and Stoke. We have also had visitors from CF centres in Dublin and Moscow.

I led a BTS Peer Review of respiratory services at St Mary's Hospital London in February 2005 and our report led to significant investment by senior managers.

I led a Cystic Fibrosis Trust Peer Review at Kings College Hospital London in March 2007. Our report again led to significant improvements being carried out after discussions with the chief executive.

I was a member of a Cystic Fibrosis Trust Peer Review team that visited City Hospital Nottingham on June 4th 2008. The report is being finalised.

I am co-author of our Trust's guidelines on Community and Hospital Acquired Pneumonia.

I was lead member of a Cystic Fibrosis Trust Peer Review team that visited Bristol Royal Infirmary in July 2009. I also led a peer review re-visit to the same Bristol unit on 15/07/2010.

I was external reviewer on behalf of the Royal College of Physicians London for the BTS guidelines on advanced diagnostic and therapeutic flexible bronchoscopy, June 2010.

I was external reviewer on behalf of the Royal College of Physicians London for the BTS guidelines on Asthma management, March 2011

RECENT AWARDS

Chairman's Partnership and Multidisciplinary Award 2006 for the Adult Cystic Fibrosis Team at Heart of England NHS Foundation Trust.

Our multidisciplinary team won the West Midlands Regional Award (Information Prescription Pilot Team) for Innovative Technology and Communications

Technology in the spring of 2008 and then went on to win the national NHS Health and Social Care Award on July 1st at Wembley Arena. I received the award from Alan Johnson MP. Secretary of State for Health.

Gold National Clinical Excellence award made in 2009.
