Orthopaedic and Hand experience

I have received excellent training throughout my surgical career and gained a broad experience in orthopaedic, trauma and hand surgery. I have been able to choose each consultant trainer in the hospitals I have worked. This has allowed me to arrange my orthopaedic training to develop the skills to work as a consultant hand surgeon. During my registrar training I have worked for two and a half years for consultant hand surgeons. Each consultant had a different approach to the specialty and therefore has given me a clear idea as to how I will develop my own independent practice.

My training has been in both North and South Wales as well as a year working in the Pulvertaft Hand Centre in Derby. My one year in Derby has broadened my experience and helped to improve on what I have already learnt, preparing me for a consultant post. As the Centre is out of my base rotation it allowed me to learn some procedures and skills that are different to those I have learnt in Wales. My elbow experience was gained during my training with Mr Kulkarni at the Royal Gwent Hospital, Newport.

I have been working since April 2007 as a Consultant Hand and Elbow Surgeon and am involved in a large amount of trauma and elective work in this orthopaedic sub specialty.
